

Dedicated to the printing needs of fine artists.

We're still here, better than ever

You haven't heard from us in far too long. We apologize for that, but it changes now.

With this email newsletter, we will regularly take the opportunity to bring you:

- News and information about fine art digital printing
- Ways to improve your photographic images
- Worksâ€™ and the story behind the worksâ€™ of today's outstanding fine art photographers and digital artists
- What Autumncolor is doing to improve our value and service to you.

We hope what we have to say will be interesting, informative and a reminder: Our quality is unmatched. Our prices low. Our services personal. If you have a question, or need help, I will provide it, one on one.

New Epson 9900

We've recently added an Epson 9900 printer to our array of printing systems.

Now we can print your finest photos and digital artwork on an assortment of fine art papers, including water color paper and canvas. The Epson 9900 can accommodate pieces up to 44" wide, its color reproduction is gorgeous and these art papers can bring new texture and character to your photos and digital art.

If You Like What You See, Please Pass It On

If you like this email and want to continue receiving it, you don't have to do a thing. You will automatically get our next mailing.

And we urge you to pass it on to a friend or associate who shares your interests in fine digital art. They can sign up free at www.autumncolor.com.

We promise you'll find useful information and enjoyable reading in every issue. And if not, you can always opt out right here.

Until next time:

Review our range of services here.

Explore remarkable images from the community of talented photographers and digital artists who choose autumncolor.

Thanks for your interest. I'll be talking with you again soon.

Best regards,

Mark Doyle

Director of Digital Imaging

E-mail: mark@autumncolor.com

Toll-free phone: 800-533-5050